Quarter Narrative Report

November 2022 - January 2023

Introduction

EEMPS has continued to grow after gaining more reputation due to excellent academic performance of grade four national examination for the past two years, great attraction of living and learning environment, quality and great designs of infrastructures and enhances public relation. This year we have experienced an increasing number of parents requesting to transfer their children from other private schools making a population of our school to two hundred and twenty-one students (115 female and 106 males).

For the past three month, a period ending January 2023, there are numbers of outstanding results that for sure need to be documented and shared with donors, sponsors and our education partners.

- EEMPS 2023 enrolment; for this year, Last year EEMPS received a total of 89 scholarship requests for nursery class from diverse areas of Arusha and Manyara region, more particularly from pastoralist districts. Two parliament members from Ngorongoro and Simanjiro districts visited the school representing vulnerable groups from their constituency. They were surprised with our school and the huge impact that is the school is making in the Maasai community, they promised to share the good testimony of our school and also committed to support the school as much as possible since they have a direct access to the government. Due to very high demand the school board approved twenty five (25) students requesting sponsorship support from MEF and other partners.
- Proposed 2023 EEMPS budget; The approximation of EEMPS budget is about Tsh 328,970,800/- equivalent to USD 140,886.85/- The following items constructed this budget; Academic requirements, Kitchen and food supplies, students supply, Salaries and wages, monthly utilities bills, government regulatory, Remedial/extra tuition costs for slow learners and National examinational preps, Audit fees, Travel and meetings costs, academic tour and repair and maintenance. (Detailed budget see Annex 1) ($20,550 USD or about $430/student)
- EEMPS parental support; A total of forty-eight students are partially supported by parents expecting a making a total of Tsh 48,000,000/- per year. These are pastoralist parents and few business men whose economic situation is determined by climatic variance and few ENCO women's group's' members who are committed to contribute for their children education. For the past two years their bank accounts (livestock) have been hit by a severe drought left them with zero or few livestock while some were left with big bank's debts obtained on the when trying to rescue their livestock. This has significantly affected the economy of the school as well.

- 2023 EEMPS staff overview; from Moinga Mbukoti EEMPS principal representing other staffs;

Moinga Mbukoti is the schools head-master and on behalf of teaching and non- teaching staff, he would like to thank Maasai Education foundation as well as all the members of board for all the support that they have been providing us. Moinga says that him and other fellow teaching staff are very well prepared for 2023 and promise to perform well in this year's fourth grade just like how they did in 2022 by being ranked the 1st within Monduli district. "We have already started attending evening classes for both grade six and four as well as remedial classes for slow learners in reading and writing" says the head teacher.

- Boys dormitory plans, cost and status;

Back and forth conversation with I, Theo, Tom Neils and Abby we finally decided to engage a professional architect who has worked on the improvement that needed to be done to upcoming boy's dormitory after a clear observation of girls dormitory and what should be considered on the boys dorm. (Plans on Annex II) and the quotation is on progress.

- Plan to minimize construction deficiencies during construction of boys' dormitory; a number of plans are considered to minimize the deficiencies on the upcoming boys' dorm this includes considering other serious constructors. We have fetched a number of them and shared the dorm plans. Intense supervision will be considered throughout the construction, this will attract supervision costs.
- Request for funds to start making bricks for boys' dormitory; These funding will be requested upon submission of BOQ from the architect.
- Water situation and needs; Access to sufficient and clean water at our school has totally changed our story, this has highly contributed to more green environment and improved health situation of our school community. Through MEF support a big water project was secured late last year. Enough water with a speed of 10lits per 3 seconds is now available making life easy at EEMPS. Due to very high pressure a number action has been taken including reducing pressure for the pipes that go to the dormitories to avoid damage in the washrooms, plumbing work was redone by changing all old pipe to new heavy duty pipe, as well as supplying other water pipes and stand pipes to each area that need water including future dormitories.

After the supply of water at school, we decided to start a vegetable garden. This will allow the school to grow its own vegetables and also enable the students to learn how to plant them. We will have different types of species within the garden. Currently we have a gardener who's working on it as seen in the pictures below and we expect to see start harvesting within late February. The space behind TX building is now converted to a beautiful vegetable shop. More work on progress.

- Electricity status (public and photovoltaic)

Recently, TANESCO (Tanzania Electric Supply company LTD) came to our school to complete electric supply process. 5years ago the school has lacked electricity hence we have been using solar panel to run the school which did not sustain sometimes because of rainy seasons. Throughout the years, a lot of follow ups and efforts have been made on availability of electricity at school with no success. After a long wait, Finally the Tanzanian Electric Supply Company LTD decided to complete the provision of electricity process at school and currently everything is powered by electricity and the solar system remains as a backup system. We are very excited that now children at school will not run shortage of power while in preparation classes at night. Effective night lessons have already started for class four and six. Short preparation periods after dinner apply to other grades except for nursery grade.

Classrooms at night

- Internet status; Another exciting news this year, just this week, our internet facility has been installed, it was tested and it is strong indoors and outdoors, more configuration is on progress to improve the speed for more users. MEF will be informed on its performance. We now hope the ST Math program will resume shortly as well as other visual learning and communication. Thank you MEF for enabling us have access to a better internet connection.
- School renovation and new landscape; During our Christmas holiday more activities were implemented, we count that as a well spend holiday ever, Olemisiko family spent their holiday period working as well as supervising various activities that were completely funded by Thomas Neils as a Christmas gifts for the family. Through his funding we are able to do lots of renovation of various buildings such as replacing the broken glasses in all the buildings, welding of toilet doors, repainting of TX building as well as construction of path ways and flower gardens as part the initiatives that he started when he visited the school early December 2022. During Christmas and new year festival the same fundings were spent to buy food and drinks for school community including a number of girls who couldn't go home due to various problems.

ENCO projects;

For the reporting period, ENCO has continued to implement women's economic projects funded by International Indigenous Women Forum (FIMI) that is phasing out on May 2023. This project focus to improve the limited economic opportunities and enabling entrepreneurship environment for Indigenous women and adolescent girls.

It also aims to address gender-based violence increases in emergencies which is impeding indigenous women and girls from participating in economic activities. Typically, within the Maasai community practices such as child marriage rises as negative coping. We believe that this project among many other have some direct impact on our school development, for instance one of its activities has financially contributed to payment of extra tuition to slow learners at our school. Upcoming tree planting and vegetable gardens will be partially financed by this project and when women improve their economic situation a direct impact will be realized at our school.

Note of Thanks

ENCO appreciations are due to the Maasai Education Foundation for its financial support; the support continues to strengthen our efforts to support pastoralist Maasai children to access better and quality education. Reaching beyond school food, salaries and school supplies, the support also ensured that the health of our children is not at stake, frequent check-up and quick treatment was offered to our children.

Likewise; we strongly acknowledge the support given by different partners, local and traditional authorities, different consulting firms, women groups, individuals and community members. This proved to be a valuable asset that has contributed to the successful take off of our work.

We are also grateful to our team of committed staff, who have devoted their time and energy throughout the project progresses.

We thank you all for your continued contribution

Martha Olemisiko
School Manager

I believe they are proposing to do away with glass in the windows. Just grill and screens for better ventilation.
